The Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP

The Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP is a quantitative, value-investment fund founded by licensed investment advisor Brian Gabriel. The Fund utilizes an artificial intelligence (AI) to identify profitable investments, and a macroeconomic model to detect signs of bull and bear markets. The primary objective of the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP is substantial alpha (return above the investment benchmark S&P 500) over a decade.

Brian Gabriel

Brian is a member of Phi Beta Kappa (the oldest honor society in the United States), and he attended medical school until his father passed away in 2007 before the financial crisis. Intrigued by the crisis, Brian applied the scientific method to investing by creating original investment models. Using these models, the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP profited from the 2020 pandemic bear market and since inception has outperformed the S&P 500 after all fees.
