

The Gabriel Private Alpha Fund is potentially one of the top performing hedge funds in the world. The Fund offers Standard Shares, and for a limited time Founders Shares- Gold, Silver, and Bronze- with premium terms like reduced performance fees.

Outperformance (after fees)

“The COVID pandemic may have been unique. But the 2020 pandemic bear market presented signs that existed in prior bear markets. We detected these signs and profited from the bear market.”

Return (after fees)

	Cumulative Return	Annual Return	Alpha (annual)
Gold	37%	14%	6%
Silver	34%	13%	5%
Bronze	32%	12%	4%
Standard	29%	11%	3%
S&P 500	18%	7%	na

What’s unique about the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund?

- #1 The Fund offers potential hedging in bear markets. Gold Shares returned +12% for the 2020 pandemic bear market after all fees.
- #2 The Fund is guided by an original macroeconomic model and an artificial intelligence (AI).
- #3 The Fund outperformed the S&P 500 for the pandemic after all fees.

Outperformance and Return of the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP (“Fund”) all shown from inception January 2020 to June 2022 after a performance fee has been deducted monthly. Gold, Silver, and Bronze Founders Shares are available for a limited time to qualified partners and offer reduced performance fees below Standard Shares. Annual Return is the Compound Annual Growth Rate. Alpha is the risk-adjusted performance of the Fund above the S&P 500 and 1 year Treasury Bill. Outperformance shows the cumulative return of the top 50 largest hedge funds (the Eurekahedge 50 Index), the Artificial Intelligence Hedge Fund Index, the S&P 500, and the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund Standard and Gold Shares from January 2020 to July 2022. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The value of the Fund may go down as well as up, and you may lose investment money which may not be recovered. There is no guarantee that the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund will profit from the next bear market. For the most up-to-date performance, see gpafund.com/performance.

Brian Gabriel

Brian is a former medical student obsessed with utilizing the scientific method and artificial intelligence to outperform the S&P 500. Brian is a member of Phi Beta Kappa (the oldest honor society in the United States), and he attended a Top 50 medical school until his father passed away in 2007 before the financial crisis. Intrigued by the crisis, Brian applied the scientific method to investing by creating original investment models. Using these models, the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP profited from the 2020 pandemic bear market and outperformed the S&P 500 after all fees.

The Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP

The Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP is a value-investment fund founded by licensed investment advisor Brian Gabriel. The Fund utilizes artificial intelligence to identify profitable investments; and a macroeconomic model to detect signs of bull and bear markets. The primary objective of the Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP is substantial alpha (return above the investment benchmark S&P 500) over a decade.

Website: www.gpafund.com

Email: Brian@gpafund.com

LinkedIn: www.linkedin.com/in/gpafund

Gabriel Private Alpha Fund LP

Build an enduring legacy of wealth.